

THE HIPPIE CODE

In 1967, suits from Time Magazine published their own bullshit "hippie code", not ours. They got it wrong. This is the real hippie code.

All beings are one. Treat every being with kindness, understanding, and compassion. Be good. Do good.

Ahimsa: nonviolence. Do no harm. Never use violence, no matter what. It just doesn't work.

Love is all. Live love. Love everyone. Serve everyone.

Listen, with an open mind. It's not you who are important. Show respect for all. And shut up.

You are a being of light. Educate and enlighten yourself, then share the light with others.

We have only one truth to depend on. Universal truth. Honour that truth without fear. No one can take it away from you.

There are no dogmas and no karmas. Live your life today.

Fix it in your mind: What would Gandhi do?

Free yourself from all expectation. It's all in your head. Surrender.

Time got the last part right: "Turn...on...to beauty, love, honesty, fun."

"Turn on. Tune in. Drop out." was the right message. Let go of the brainwashing.

Be here now...

So...you need 3G with that? (But will we get 4D in time?) Just breathe the universe, in and out. It only needs you. And, don't shave your head—it makes you look like a criminal!

If you need more reminders, read Be Here Now again, and again, and again, and again, until you get it!

HIPPIE!
